

GAYNOR AND GREENE LOSE.

ANOTHER CANADIAN DECISION AGAINST MEN WANTED HERE.

Belief in Washington That Their Fight Against Extradition Is Over, but Attorneys for the Accused Men Do Not Give Up Hope—Made a Long Struggle.

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—Justice Oulmet today quashed the petition for habeas corpus presented on behalf of Gaynor and Greene and ordered them back to the jail for surrender under commitment of Magistrate Lafontaine, or for release in due course should such action be decided upon. A long judgment declared the commitment regular, three extraditable offenses being disclosed—namely, participation in fraud by agent, embezzlement and receiving stolen money. These three crimes, though the names differ somewhat in Canada, are still punishable by laws of both countries. The judge declared that the copies of evidence taken in the United States and duly certified by Attorney-General Knox were good evidence before the courts here. He therefore maintained the judgment of Magistrate Lafontaine and ordered the men back for surrender or release by executive power of the country.

Counsel Alexander Taschereau significantly declared they are not gone yet, while T. Chase Casgrain said: "While there's life there's hope. We will confer and see what to do."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The Department of Justice late this afternoon received a despatch from Donald McMaster, special counsel for the United States Government in the Greene-Gaynor cases, announcing that Judge Oulmet at Montreal had dismissed the petition in the defense of Greene and Gaynor against extradition from Canada. It is believed at the Department of Justice that no further legal steps are possible for the accused men and that they will forthwith be brought to this country.

Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor of New York were indicted at Savannah, Ga., in 1899, charged with conspiracy and conspiracy to defraud the United States Government in connection with contracts for harbor improvements at that place. Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, U. S. Engineer, U. S. A., was convicted on the same charge, dismissed from the army and imprisoned at Fort Leavenworth for a term of years. Greene and Gaynor were arrested in New York, but they resisted extradition to Georgia, and when a decision was rendered against them in a Commissioner's Court they fled to Canada. Each forfeited bail to the amount of $40,000. Measures were taken to secure extradition, and there was some hope of a favorable outcome, when the accused men fled from Montreal to Quebec, thus changing the legal jurisdiction.

In May, 1902, detectives kidnapped them and, taking them aboard a fast train, carried them to Montreal, where it was hoped the measures for extradition would be successful. There was an exciting chase on the river. Upon arrival in Montreal, Judge Lafontaine committed the men to jail, but Judge Garon of Quebec granted a writ of habeas corpus and Greene and Gaynor were taken back to that place and set at liberty.

Intense feeling was caused among officials of the Administration in Washington when it was found that the Attorney-General of Canada was a member of the law firm retained to defend Greene and Gaynor against extradition. When Elihu Root went to London as a member of the Boundary Tribunal a friendly feeling was created in influential quarters, and it is generally believed that this visit had a direct bearing on the intense feeling of the British Government in an effort to secure the extradition of Greene and Gaynor from Canada.

At any rate, an appeal by this Government to the Privy Council of England was entertained, and in February last a decree was handed down in favor of the United States. The Lords in Council advised that the two judgments of Judge Garon at Quebec must be reversed, the respondents paying the costs of the proceedings.

Since that time, however, two separate legal actions have been brought by Greene and Gaynor in Canada to prevent extradition. The first was in Judge Lafontaine's court in Montreal, and he decided against the accused men. The petition to Judge Oulmet, which is believed to be the last resort of Greene and Gaynor, was dismissed today.

The Government is supposed to have lost more than $2,000,000 through the conspiracy with which Greene, Gaynor and Carter were charged.

STOPPED BY FRAUD ORDERS.

The Seize Yeast Company Can No Longer Use the Mails.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—A fraud order has been issued against George W. Barnhart of Chillicothe, Ohio, conducting a business under the name of the Seize Yeast Company. The post office inspector who made the investigation and on whose report the fraud order was issued says that Barnhart advertised to sell for 10 cents something that would exterminate rats, mice, flies, roaches and other vermin, like magic. In return for the money Barnhart forwarded a cheap little booklet entitled "Silent Exterminator of Household Pests." The booklet was filled with recipes for the manufacture of fly paper, how to keep mice in one's house, etc., and how to make yeast with one of the Seize Yeast Company's outfits. Barnhart's scheme was considered fraudulent, and accordingly he has been debarred from the use of the mails.

LIEUT. BURBANK'S TRIAL.

The Charges Grow Out of His Marriage to a Philippine Woman.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The court-martial proceedings against First Lieut. Sidney S. Burbank, Sixth Infantry, begun some months ago and then dropped, have been taken up again and the trial is to be held in the Department of Visayas, P. I. The charges against the officer grow out of his alleged marriage to Mrs. Concepcion Yasquez, a Filipino woman, who was first brought to the attention of War ordered that the proceedings be held up on account of the fact that Burbank while on duty at Fort Leavenworth instituted civil proceedings to have the marriage annulled. While Secretary Taft was in the Philippines the case was explained to him and now the officer is to be taken before a court-martial.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—The collier Nero has arrived at Norfolk, the cruiser Pennsylvania at Norfolk, the cruiser Tacoma at the New York Navy Yard, the cruiser Olympia at San Francisco, the battleship Alabama at Provincetown and the gunboat Sandoval at Norfolk.

Army and Navy Orders.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—These army orders were issued today: Contract Surgeon Oscar F. Davis, from Fort De Soto to Jefferson Barracks, Mo. Contract Surgeon Roger P. Ames, from Fort Mifflin to Fort S. Philip, relieving Contract Surgeon George W. Daywalt, who will proceed to Fort De Soto. The retirement of Capt. Herbert S. Wipple, Fifth Cavalry; Capt. Warren S. Burlew, Twenty-fifth Infantry; Second Lieut. Charles W. Harris, Twenty-eighth Infantry; and First Lieut. Robert O. Peterson, Twenty-ninth Infantry, is announced. Capt. Sam F. Botoms, Commissary, to San Francisco. Changes for military secretaries: Col. George Andrews, Pacific division to the Philippines division, relieving Col. William A. Simpson, ordered to the Department of California; Major John V. White, from Department of Mindanao to San Francisco. First Lieut. Alvan C. Gilman, Fourth Cavalry, to General Hospital, Presidio of San Francisco, for treatment. These naval orders were issued: Capt. E. K. Moore, from command of the Chicago to the Navy Department. Lieut. W. R. Wortman, from the Massachusetts to home and leave of one month. Lieut. W. B. Tardy, to the Maine.

LIVE TOPICS ABOUT TOWN.

"They certainly can show you some right here in this little neck of the woods," said the man from Missouri.

"You have doll surgeons, doll dentists, cat hospitals, dog academies. I have seen holding loops on the reins on horses drawing a hearse at a funeral; the town is certainly somewhat quick."

"Up to the evening of the 13th of this month, on a cross street not far from this RSN office, in the window of a store was the sign 'Panama hat hospital'."

"I went by there on the morning of the 14th and it was looked up and deserted by all save one, probably a former patient, hanging lifeless on a peg on the wall."

"Where in thunder is Miss Keyes?" growled the manager. "That girl's got to be here on time mornings or I'll—"

The clerk handed him a copy of the first extra announcing the accident on the L road, and at that moment the manager, Miss Keyes entered the office, clutch in hand and apology for tardiness on lips.

"I had to come down on a surface car," she began, but the manager interrupted. "Never mind, Miss Keyes, never mind! A few minutes in the morning doesn't make any difference. Take your time, take your time. You needn't hurry. You begin to think the strenuous life isn't all the life there is."

On one of the late gray afternoons there was an almost unnoticed tragedy in the financial district. The pigeons were droling in and out about the tall buildings. High above them a dark spot was swooping in long, easy curves. Suddenly it shot downward upon a flock of the pigeons like bolt from bow, and as it rapidly stooped toward earth it was seen to be a hawk. In its flight it swept under a pigeon, cutting it up from the flock and driving it upward. The pigeon struggled to reach a refuge among the tall buildings, but the hawk's rearward extension of 60 Wall street. The hawk proved too strong in flight, soared once more above its victim, stooped again and swept away with the pigeon, leaving no sign of the murder except a few floating feathers and a drop of red that splattered on the shirt waist of a stenographer passing along the street below. A common enough tragedy of the air in the country, but not often seen over city roofs.

"The way you New Yorkers address one another is still strange to me, although I have been coming here for years," said a visiting New Englander. "One would judge that you had no Christian names. I seldom hear one used, except formally. It's 'old man,' or 'old fellow,' and even in speaking to your wives it's 'little one,' 'little woman' or some such diminutive. The women don't seem to be much better, with terms as 'boy,' and 'buddy.' The children are likewise misnamed and seem to understand only such appellations as 'kid' and 'little rascal.' My daughter came here with the good old New England name of Priscilla, but I hear her called 'Prissy,' and some even make it 'Cilly.' This is certainly an age of slang."

AUTUMN SEASON IN TUXEDO.

Return of the Cottagers in Large Numbers—Dinners and House Parties.

TUXEDO PARK, Sept. 23.—Delightful clear cool autumn weather favored the Tuxedo colonists to-day for their weekend festivities. In addition to the cottagers who are now here a large number came but to pass Sunday. The feature of the week was the return of the cottagers who came out in large numbers to-day, and now the autumn season is opened and Tuxedo is very gay. Dinners and luncheons and house parties were given by nearly every cottage. A series of tennis matches for the weekend during October were started and a large and fashionably dressed crowd was seen on the courts to-day. The golf club was also the scene of a large gathering and other outdoor sports were patronized.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Redmond, who are in their cottage on West Lake road, entertained at house parties followed by a dinner party, which was largely attended by the colonists. Among others who gave large dinners to-night were: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mortimer in their large villa, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. V. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Munroe and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Cutting.

At the clubhouse dinners were given by Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. John McG. Woodbury, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan G. Barnwell and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. William B. Dinamore, Jr., who have just returned from Bar Harbor, entertained a large party at dinner in their new cottage on Friday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. William H. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Foeter and a large number of the colonists.

Among this week's arrivals at their cottages are Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius S. Lee, who were at Bar Harbor; Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Rogers, Jr., who summered at Fair Haven; Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Havemeyer, Jr., from Newport; Mr. and Mrs. August Koester, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Belfield, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Coulter and Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Pell.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, who were also at Bar Harbor, arrived at Tuxedo on Wednesday, to remain for the autumn.

Count Walkenstein of Germany, who was at the clubhouse, called on the Baltic on Wednesday and Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Juillard, who closed their cottage early in the week also went abroad for the autumn.

Miss Eugenie French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos T. French, arrived from Newport on Friday and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mortimer at their cottage. Miss Eleanor Sedley of New York is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph O. Erdridge in the Price cottage on Pepperidge road.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Chanler, who arrived from England, have returned to the Juillard cottage. They will open their new villa as soon as it is completed.

Other arrivals. Gordon Fellows, George L. Rives, Mrs. E. L. Rives, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Chapman, H. Cruger Oakley, T. Siffert Jailer, Arthur M. Jones, the Rev. William F. Zimmerman, Dr. and Mrs. J. Terry, Miss Mary L. Donner, Miss Packard, Mrs. Morgan Dix, Mrs. William H. Wheelock, Mr. and Mrs. W. McK. Twombly, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Thacher, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Fred M. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Davidson, Percy Ashon-Johnson of England, Miss Augusta Bliss, Miss Hall and Mrs. John Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Vanderpoel arrived from Southampton on Monday in their auto, they are passing their wedding trip touring the country in their auto. They left for New York Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. McK. Twombly also arrived in their auto Saturday and will pass Sunday at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Belmont Tiffany will pass Sunday at the cottage of Mrs. Cooper Hewitt, and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. V. Hoffman, the 6th and Mrs. Grenville Kane and the Misses Kane will arrive from Newport next week and open their Tuxedo resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander, who have been in California for several weeks, will return to Tuxedo.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Tuckerman, who were in Switzerland, are expected at the clubhouse for the month of October.

Mowerson-Storms.

Miss Emma J. Storms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Storms of Hillsdale, N. J., and John Mowerson of Saddle River, N. J., were married at the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. Dr. J. B. Preston, at the home of Ridgewood, N. J., on Wednesday evening. The bride was Miss Annie Storms, a sister of the bride, and the best man was Conrad Bayerdorfer of New York. The wedding bed of golden rod was hung in an arbor of smilax.

Great annual umbrella sale

HIGH-CLASS exclusive jewelry stores sell these umbrellas the year round at $5 and $8, but of course their limited facilities will not permit them to handle the manufacturer's surplus stock, and once a year he depends upon Simpson Crawford Co. to dispose of his over production. That's why we get them at half price and less, and offer to-morrow the handsomest collection and largest variety ever shown in New York at $3.95.

Just a year ago to-morrow, if you'll look up the newspapers, we held this annual sale and sold over five hundred in one day, mind you. To-morrow the sale starts with exactly 1,263 umbrellas, and it's the only chance of the year to get a $10.00 umbrella for 3.95.

Some of them have $5.00 and $6.00 handles—exquisitely carved ivory—gold, silver and pearl mounted handles—gun metal and tortoise shell, in designs of marvellous beauty and originality. And the frames are the best that can be made—Paragon frames, with the strongest steel rods and coverings of guaranteed silk. Not strange they sell quickly at 3.95.

DINNER TO THE DUCHESSES.

Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay Entertains Her Grace of Marlborough at Roslyn.

ROSLYN, L. I., Sept. 23.—Mrs. Clarence H. Mackay gave a dinner and musicale in honor of the Duchess of Marlborough this evening at Harbor Hill, the country seat of Mrs. Mackay here. Mrs. Mackay was one of the bridesmaids at the Vanderbilt-Marlborough wedding.

There were sixty guests at the musicale. The list included members of the Meadow Brook, Rockaway, Great Neck and other well known colonies about New York. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, the mother of the Duchess, drove over from her country seat, Brookhill Villa, at Hempstead with friends in automobiles and other vehicles. There were also represented members of the other well known families about Hempstead, Westbury, Wheatley Hills and Oyster Bay.

Nathan Franko, one of the conductors at the Metropolitan Opera House, with sixty musicians of the opera, houses played during the dinner. Mr. Franko also played several solos which were roundly applauded by Mrs. Mackay and her guests. The musicians came out in a private car and remained at Roslyn over night.

During the afternoon a large number of florists were kept busy in decorating the Mackay mansion. The dinner was served at one of the large tables in the dining room on the east side of the house. The musicale was given in the stone hall, which is one of the novel features of the Mackay estate. The entire building is used for music purposes alone.

The Duchess has been a week-end guest of Mrs. Mackay, and next week she will return to her mother at Brookhill Villa and will accompany Mrs. Mackay Friday and Saturday at the horse show that will be held at the Queens-Nassau County Fair. She will also assist Mrs. Mackay, who has been selected as one of the judges of the school for the young ladies in which the pupils from all over Nassau county will compete. The Duchess will also be a central figure at the Piping Rock horse show that will follow that at Mineola.

Mrs. Arthur Bateman's Daughter Engaged.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Arthur Edgerton Bateman of this city and New York announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Beila Edgerton Bateman, to Charles D. Voorhis of Paterson, N. J. Miss Bateman was a debutante of last season and one of the most attractive of the large number of young women introduced to smart society in the capital last winter. She is a graduate of a fashionable school for young ladies. Mr. Voorhis is a grandson of Judge Voorhis of Hackensack, N. J., a graduate of Lawrenceville College, a former Princeton man and now a student of law in the George Washington University in this city. No date has been set for the wedding.

Wittmann—Orr.

The marriage of Mrs. Henry Orr, daughter of Henry Spingler Van Beuren of this city, to Joseph L. Wittmann of Morristown, N. J., occurred on Thursday last, at the residence of the bride's father at Morristown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Nelson of New York. Owing to the recent death of the bride's cousin, Henry Spingler, Forderen Davis and Michael C. Davis, who are the relatives of the families, were present. The bride was Miss Elizabeth Van Beuren, daughter of Frederick F. Van Beuren of 21 West Fourth street. She was married in October to Dr. Joy of this city.

Crowell—Dixon.

ABURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 23.—Miss Bertha Dixon, daughter of Justice Jonathan Dixon of the New Jersey Supreme Court, was married at noon to-day at the bride's home, in Allenhurst, to James Crowell of Newark. Many of Justice Dixon's legal friends from Newark, Jersey City and Orange were present. The Rev. Dr. Charles Kerr, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Jersey City, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by her two sisters, Miss Dixon and Mrs. Dixon. Mr. and Mrs. Crowell will reside in Newark.
